The tunnel of warm water is swaying slowly.
With the mist dancing off the scorching sand.
Birds are tweeting like sparks of happiness!
Palm trees are dancing like they just don't care.
Colourful fish are swimming peacefully like synchronised swimmers.
Monkeys are playing in a bonkers band!
Shells are glittery shining stars.
The soft sweet smell of furry coconuts falling off the trees fills the air.
The flowers are swiftly growing like they just popped up for air.

I feel calm and peaceful
